VAT · £90,000

Sold more than £90,000? You have to register for VAT.

It counts what you sold, not what you kept. And it counts the last 12 months — not last year, not the tax year.

WHEN YOU GO OVER

30 days

At the end of every month, add up your sales for the last 12 months. If the total passes £90,000, you have 30 days to tell HMRC.

> Go over in July → register by 30 August → charge VAT from 1 September.

WHO DOES NOT HAVE TO

£88,000

Under £90,000 you are not obliged. You may register by choice, but you do not have to. And if you are registered and sales drop below £88,000, you can ask to come out.

> The exception: if your business is based outside the UK and you sell here, you register from the first pound.
