SELF ASSESSMENT · 30 DECEMBER 2026

Owe tax and have a wage?

You can pay it out of your pay.

Instead of finding the whole amount on 31 January, HMRC can take it from your wages a bit at a time across the year. Only if you file in time.

THE THREE CONDITIONS

£3,000

You owe less than £3,000. You already pay tax through PAYE on a wage or a pension. And you file online by 30 December 2026.

> The paper deadline was 31 October and has gone. Online, there are still a few weeks.

WHO CANNOT

50%

Owe £3,000 or more and you cannot — and you cannot pay part of it to get under £3,000. Nor can you if there is not enough PAYE income for HMRC to collect from.

> Nor if it would mean paying more than half your pay in tax, or more than twice your usual tax.
