DIRECTOR'S LOAN ACCOUNT · HMRC

You took money out of your limited company that was not salary and not a dividend.

HMRC calls that a director's loan. The clock starts at your company year end.

WHAT THE COMPANY PAYS

33.75%

Still owed 9 months and 1 day after your year end? The company pays HMRC 33.75% of what is left, on money taken out between 6 April 2022 and 5 April 2026.

> Money taken out on or after 6 April 2026 is charged at 35.75% instead.

WHO DOES NOT PAY

Zero

A director who clears the whole balance inside the 9 months and 1 day pays nothing. If you are self-employed there is no company to borrow from, so no loan exists.

> The charge is on close companies — in practice almost every small limited company.
