EMPLOYERS · EMPLOYMENT ALLOWANCE

Up to £10,500 off the company's National Insurance.

Once you have staff, the business pays National Insurance on top of what comes out of their wages. Employment Allowance cuts the employer's share. It is never applied on its own — it has to be claimed.

HOW MUCH, AND HOW TO CLAIM

£10,500

Up to £10,500 off the employer's Class 1 National Insurance in a tax year. Claimed through your payroll software, against one payroll only — and claimed again every new tax year.

> It does not carry forward. A claim never made can be backdated up to 4 years after the end of the tax year it covers.

WHO CANNOT CLAIM

1 director

A company with one director and no other employee liable for secondary Class 1 cannot claim. Nor an employer doing more than half its work in the public sector — unless it is a charity.

> Nor for household work — a nanny, a gardener — unless a care or support worker. In a group of connected companies or charities, only one claims.
