MARRIAGE ALLOWANCE · GOV.UK

Up to £252 a year — and you can backdate it

If one of you earns below the Personal Allowance, part of it can move to the other.

WHAT IT IS WORTH

£252

Up to £252 per tax year. £1,260 of Personal Allowance transfers from the lower earner.

> UK-wide. In Scotland the receiving partner must be on the starter, basic or intermediate rate: £12,571–£43,662.

BACKDATING

4 years

A claim can reach back to 6 April 2022 — the 2022/23 tax year.

> Only for the years you both met the conditions.

CONDITIONS AND EXCLUSIONS

£12,570

One under £12,570, the other a basic-rate payer. Cohabiting couples cannot claim.

Think it applies to you? We will check the conditions and which years are open.
