SAVINGS · HELP TO SAVE

Put in £50 a month, the government adds £25.

The account is called Help to Save and the government adds 50% of what you build up, in two payments — not monthly. Over four years: £2,400 in at most, and up to £1,200 of bonus.

THE BONUS IS NOT MONTHLY

50%

It comes twice: once after 2 years, once after 4. The first bonus is 50% of the highest balance you reached in the first two years.

> The second is 50% of however much you push that highest balance up in years 3 and 4. It is paid into your bank account rather than the savings account, and it is tax free.

WHO CANNOT OPEN ONE

£0

No Universal Credit, no account. Nor with Universal Credit but £0 of take-home pay in your last assessment period — £1 or more is the test.

> Nor if you are not living in the UK — exception: Crown servants and members of the British armed forces, with their spouses or civil partners. Nor if you have already had an account: one per person, once ever.
